PAVING PROGRAM....

40 Attend, Ask Questions

About 40 property owners attended the 10 a.m. Monday public hearing for the proposed 100-block paving program at Milam District Courtroom.

They heard an explanation of the program workings from Tom Anderlitch, of Texas Securities, San Antonio, which is handling planning and financing.

And he introduced a Mrs. Wooley of Temple, who will be contacting property owners throughout the paving areas. She has conducted paving programs with property owners in Temple and four other communities.

City Secretary Buddy Fuller reported four property owners—Albert Burnett, Arthur Bowling, Carl Black and Mrs. Clifton Jenness—asked informational questions.

Albert Collins, resident of East Sixth St. and Cameron civic leader, spoke in behalf of the proposed paving program, which is the largest in Cameron's history.

WAITING PERIOD

A 15-day litigation period now must expire, Fuller said, before actual construction and final contact work can begin, which meant at the earliest a July 17 starting and possibly August 1.

Mayor E. A. Perrin introduced Anderlitch and other officials at the meeting which included all city councilmen, except John Hays, who is in St. Edward Hospital following a series of heart attacks.

Gordon Baskin and Edward Bigbee, of Cameron, real estate appraisers, also discussed the effect of paving and curbing property, generally meaning an increase in value of property which now has no curbing and little paving, if any.

Present also were Aubrey Slough paving contractor from Temple, and Ed Apel, representative from Rady & Associates of Fort Worth, who furnished engineering work in conjunction with Cameron Public Works Dept.

Mayor Perrin, following the meeting, which lasted about an hour and a half, told The Herald he "was pleased with the response of the property owners."

A petition bearing signatures of about 25 property owners on East Sixth St. from North Fannin to North Jackson was not presented at the public hearing.

PETITION

Judge W. C. Wallace, a resident of East Seventh St., presented the petition in a called Council meeting 2:30 p.m. Monday at City Hall.

The two-point statement asked that the East Sixth St. program from North Fannin to North Jackson be removed from the overall program, saying:

ONE—That section of East Sixth St. "is entirely adequate to take care of present flow of traffic", said that portion of street in question was "re-graded and re-paved" only a short time ago.

TWO—That cost to the City and abutting property owners would not be justified by any "supposed benefit."

The petition "respectfully requested reconsideration of the proposed plans for paving this section of Sixth Street and omit it from the proposed paving program...."

Fuller said two of the signers of the petition voiced neutral opinions at the public meeting prior to the presentation before the City Council Monday afternoon.

Fuller also said he had received about 40 calls from property owners prior to the public meeting which sought information about specifics of the program.

BOARD WILL CHECK PLANS, APPRAISORS

The Cameron Urban Renewal board will meet 10 a.m. Monday at CURA office in downtown Cameron to review restoration area proposed building codes and to pick appraisers of buildings in the area.

The Agency has posted a map on the wall of the office which shows the 23- to 24-block area with shaded areas for buildings suggested by engineers as prospective purchase areas for the Agency.

They included the entire block opposite the Courthouse bordered by West Main, West First St., Houston and Central Avenues, and portions of five other blocks.

A. W. McCullin, chairman of the Cameron Urban Renewal board, said Wednesday five appraisers were in Cameron or in contact with Agency officials to estimate the cost of appraising buildings in the proposed restoration area.

FINANCE STUDY

He also said an Agency committee is looking into financing and interest rates for property owners affected in the restoration area.

McCullin emphasized that "response was very good to the June public meeting which outlined the status of the program which now is a month and one-half ahead of schedule.

"People are thinking positively," McCullin told The Herald.

The building code to be considered by board members is under study by individual members prior to the meeting, McCullin said. It would bring uniform building standards for present and future construction within the area.

McCullin said he believed it would be similar to codes in the past two years approved by Cameron City Council, which are standardized under Southern Building Codes.

'BEFORE' PICTURES

B&B Studio is under contract to shoot all buildings in the 24 block area in a "before" status. The idea is to establish comparison basis for buildings within the area which are improved or remodeled for "after" shot comparison.

The acquisition map, now posted in the Agency office, is to be reviewed by the Board Monday at the 10 a.m. meeting.

Five appraisers are interested in bidding on the actual appraisal portion of the planning program, being conducted by Bernard Johnson Engineers of Houston.

Things are real nice in Central Texas summer with air conditioning unless it goes out.

But that gives the overweight problem some natural assistance as things melt down in an uncooled newspaper office, if such a problem exists. 109 would not for a minute claim such a problem exists with our staff.

109-109-109

Just happened to think that passage of the Elm Creek Watershed vote has put the total prospective improvements in the Cameron area somewhere around $13 million as town and county (and Bell County's part, of course) take the high road to the modern era.

If you want to figure that $12 million turns about two to three times in the immediate area of its spending, that's about $36 million scheduled for turning in the next eight years.

And if you don't think that won't generate plenty of other activity, just watch out for the bulldozers in the country. We shouldn't forget Laneport, which, along with North San Gabriel at Georgetown, will receive a portion of a $1.4 million for land acquisition. More will have to come later.

Laneport someday will cost a total of about $28 million and though in Williamson County, will mean a lot more spendable income within 20 miles of county seat Cameron.

Add to this the major expansion at Alcoa in Rockdale and you have a changin' world around us. And the $3.5 to $4 million under way in part here should add a lot of fuel to the economy.

Committees Plan Hospital Program

Practically all committees of the St. Edward Hospital funding program will be meeting in the next week, according to Robert Ellett, drive chairman.

Committees include: donor index and mailing, donor contact, county-wide and out-of-county solicitation, industrial and business, city organizations and publicity.

Goal of St. Edward Hospital fund drive is $250,000 in city, county and state-wide funding, or a quarter of the one million dollar program which will erect a 50-bed hospital on a site south of the old St. Edward facility.

Officers of the drive include: R. W. Wells, vice chairman; Dr George Bowman, treasurer; hospital administrator Sister Kostka and Sister Aloysius, coordinating committee and Ellett.

A total of $750,000 is pledged already toward the construction program: $500,000 in Hill-Burton funds, and $250,000 from the St. Joseph Hospital Order, Houston.

Ellett told The Herald that office space will be leased for the duration of the drive, which is to begin in September.

Named to the board coordinating the drive are: Mrs. Cecil Anderson, N. L. Caperton, Albert Collins, John H. Davis, Dr. T. C. Green, John B. Henderson Jr., Don G. Humble, Charles Kunz, Dr. and Mrs. S. H. Richardson, Henry Litzman, Frank M. Luecke, Forrest Sapp, Gene Smitherman, Dr. C. G. Swift, Lester Williams, James D. Camp, Sister Kostka and Sister Aloysius.

Challenge For Scouts, Fun For City Youngsters

Story Hour at Cameron Public Library has been a special summer treat for youngsters and a challenge for eight Cadette Girl Scouts this year.

The Scouts are working on their third "Challenge of Active Citizenship" to earn first class ratings. Helping at Story Hour was the result of a four month survey by the Girl Scouts to determine community needs.

The girls work with the three through six year age group each Thursday morning, alternating so that two Scouts participate each week. They select and tell the story and plan a related activity. Last week the story was "The Paper Flower Tree" and children made paper flower trees of straws, string and paper.

Girl Scouts participating in the challenge are JoAnn Owen, Cynthia Krieg, Mary Caroline Matula, Pat Hollas, Connie Ellis, Kathryn Kahler, Janet Pierce and Beth Brock.

Story Hour will continue through August, meeting at 10 a.m. each Thursday in the Cameron Public Library. Adult volunteers direct the program for 7-10 year olds.

New Oil Wildcat In South Milam

Milam County, which has had little oil drilling activity since the first of the year, early this week had one new wildcat scheduled and drilling, and another rumored to start within a few days.

Both wildcats are located in south Milam's Milbur Field area.

The test reportedly drilling is the Houston Petroleum Company No. 1 Harry W. Young. It is permitted to 2,500 feet and will be a basal Wilcox test. The Young is located three miles south of Milano on a 103 acre lease in James Shields Survey and near production in the North Milbur Field.

The other wildcat which reportedly will start in a few days will be an Edwards Lime test. Location will be on the W. P. Hogan 174 acre tract in Van Veighton Survey. Permit depth was not reported; however, the Edwards is expected to be found at about 6,500 feet in that area.

The J. M. Huber Corporation and R. E. Smith of Houston drilled two wells on the Hogan acreage last summer which produced over 60 barrels per day on potential from the basal Wilcox around 2,700 feet. The new wildcat, however, will be the first try to find production in the deeper Edwards formation on this lease.

A children's reading program is underway each Thursday morning, Monroe Fuchs told the board Monday night. Miss Louise Jamison, librarian, said attendance had been good thus far.

New board members meeting with the board Monday were Williams and Frank M. Luecke. Carry over board members are Mrs. Perrin, Mrs. Perry Holder, Miss House and Miss Mildred Thornton.

For Little League Lead

Yankees, Indians Battle

A crucial battle looms for the league leaders Friday when the Little League Yankees and Indians meet in their last of three game series.

Both teams have one loss, suffered at the hand of the other, throwing importance on Friday's game which could determine the winner of the LL season.

The Indians have completed their second round of play and have 7 wins and 1 loss while the Yankees have 5 wins and 1 loss. Peanut Barron's Yankees play the Colts Wednesday night and have another game to make up with the Cardinals.

Bret Shumate's Indians picked up 4 wins since last Thursday, defeating the Colts in two make-up games, the Cardinals and the Bears. The Yankees picked up 1 win against the Bears and the Cardinals and Colts each added a win to their records.

INDIANS — CARDINALS

With David Hollas and Fred Rangel sharing pitching duties, the Indians held the Cardinals to 1 run while they crossed the plate three times for a 3-1 victory Thursday night.

Scoring for the Indians were second baseman Ronnie Chamberlain, catcher Mike Mueck and third baseman Phil McCall.

Scott Mitchan scored the lone run for the Cardinals. Glenn Cryer was on the mound and Gene Mitchan behind the plate.

INDIANS — COLTS

The Indians came from behind Friday in a make-up game to take the Colts 7-6 in an exciting game that went into an extra inning.

The Colts had a 6-1 lead until the Indians rallied in the 5th inning to even the score.

David Hollas' solid hit in the 7th knocked in Ronnie Mikulec for the winning run.

Colt catcher Mark Michalka scored 3 runs and pitcher Randy Sapp, second baseman John Houston and right fielder Steven Bornfeld crossed the plate once. Ricky Sapp and Frank Borgas also saw action on the mound.

Scoring for the Indians were N. Rangel, Gary Fuchs, David Hollas, pitcher Fred Rangel, catcher Mike Mueck and Mikulec. Rangel was winning pitcher and shared duties with Mikulec.

CARDINALS — BEARS

The Bears picked up 2 runs in the 6th inning Saturday but were unable to push in enough runs to overcome the 5 scores the Cardinals gained in the 1st and 3rd innings, thus falling to the Cardinals 5-3.

Cardinal pitcher Glenn Cryer and second baseman Gene Goeke put their team out in front in the first inning, each scoring once. First baseman Ernie Provasek, catcher Eugene Mitchan and short stop Tony Vargas scored in the 3rd giving the Cards a 5-1 lead.

Bear pitcher Carl Burnett scored in the 1st, and center fielder Bobby Zavodny, and catcher Joe Griffith added the runs in the 6th.

INDIANS — COLTS

The Indians had everything going for them Saturday afternoon in their second make-up game with the Colts scoring 11 runs while the Colts were unable to cross the plate once.

Indian pitcher Fred Rangel picked up two runs, along with Gary Fuchs, Phil McCall and Dale Mueck. Ronnie Chamberlain was top scorer with 3 runs. Mike Mueck was behind the plate.

Randy Sapp was on the mound for the Colts and Mark Michalka catching.

BEARS — YANKEES

Pop-ups, forced plays and strike outs plagued the League-leading Yankees in a 1 to 0 victory over the Bears Sunday afternoon. Although the Bears played a staunch defensive game they were unable to cope with the Yankee pitching artists.

Kenneth Dusek was just as superb on the mound for the Bears. Lead-off batter for the Yankees

Rush Fresh Corn From Field ToPot

Fresh corn is one of summer's most delightful treats. The quicker it is cooked after being picked, the better it is. In selecting corn, examine both the husks and the kernels of the ear.

The husks should be green and fresh looking, says Gwendolyne Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist. Kernels should be well filled, bright, plump, milky and firm enough to give slight resistance to pressure. They should be free from worm or insect damage.

Small, soft undeveloped kernels indicates immaturity and immature kernels lack flavor when they are cooked, according to the Texas A&M University specialist. Overmaturity is indicated by large, excessively firm kernels which are usually deeper in color than when at normal maturity.

Fresh corn should be properly handled from the time it is picked until it is put into the kettle to cook to maintain high quality.

Buy today only enough corn that can be used by tomorrow, advises the specialist. At ordinary summer temperatures, about half the sugar content of mature corn is lost within 24 hours. Cooling slows the loss of sugar and helps to maintain quality.

Mrs. Clyatt suggests corn be the last purchase on your shopping trip, then hurry home to the refrigerator.

Cotton Promotion, Research Funds Nearly $7 Million

MEMPHIS

"Cotton farmers obviously are determined to fight for a greater share of the expanding market for fibers," George C. Cortright Jr., chairman of the Cotton Board, said today.

As evidence, the Rolling Fork, Miss., cotton producer cited the collection to date of almost $7 million for research and promotion from the small 1967-68 cotton crop.

Cortright said funds now in transit to the Cotton Board will push the collections to well above the $7-million mark. A total of $6,972,000 had been received as of June 27.

The extremely low level of refunds—only three percent of collections—strongly emphasizes the great value which cotton farmers place on research and promotion and certainly shows they are determined to compete with other fibers for markets," Cortright said.

Established under the Cotton Research and Promotion Act, the collections are on cotton sold prior to June 1, 1968.

Despite a very short crop, the net cost of operating the Cotton Board and administering the collection, accounting, and refund system during the first 15 months amounted to only one percent of collections, Cortright said.

"This means 99 cents out of every dollar is going for an operating research and promotion program. Certainly this is efficiency at its best, and is what the sponsors of the Research and Promotion Act intended. We know growers and other industry members will be highly pleased," the Cotton Board chairman said.

Page boy Rickey Williams and Rep. Milton Schiller

Summer Job For Rick Educational

By Lloyd Albertson

Rickey Williams of Cameron, like a good many other enterprising youngsters, got himself a summer job after school was out -- but chances are his is much more interesting than any of the jobs that most of the boys his age were able to find.

He is working as a page at the Capitol in Austin during the special session of the Texas Legislature now in progress. And that's hard to equal as summer jobs go.

Rickey was aided in getting the job by Rep. Milton Schiller of Cameron, who sponsored him. He is one of some 20 page boys employed there during the special session.

Rickey, 12, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Williams. He will be a seventh grader in Ada Henderson Junior High School this fall. Both his father and grandfather, Lester Williams, are officers in Cameron's First National Bank -- so he isn't exactly following family tradition in his job among the legislators and politicians.

He is on duty from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday, or Friday if there is a session then. Rickey's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Camp, reside in Austin and he is staying with them during the session.

ON CALL BY 150

A page boy has to learn a lot of things quickly. Although he was sponsored by Rep. Schiller, Rickey does not work for him alone, but is on call by any of the 150 House members. He has to be familiar with the seating arrangement of Representatives in the House chamber, and in some instances with the location of their offices in the building. Also he has to know many of the Senators and state officials and the location of government offices.

"He has to know the whole Capitol complex," Rep. Schiller commented.

The big State Captiol building has both stairways and elevators, as visitors there know, but apparently the elevators, because of the traffic, are more or less "off limits" to the page boys. When he was asked if he rode the elevators much when running errands, Rickey explained:

"About the only time we can use the elevators is when we're carrying a package or something."

After about three weeks as a page, Rickey was assigned to work for the Legislative Council, a group of five Senators and five Representatives, which plans future legislation. He will continue, however, to serve as a page in the House chamber and elsewhere.

Within less than three weeks as a page boy, according to Rep. Schiller, Rickey has made something of a name for himself due to his good manners and politeness.

"He says 'Yes, sir' and 'No, sir'," he explained. "And he has worked hard to learn and make a good page boy."

Rickey's job, of course, comes to an end when the special session of the Legislature does. In September when school starts, he plans to play football for Ada Henderson.

But probably he hopes his job as a page lasts as long as possible where he can see the law-making process in action and many of the prominent political figures of Texas.

4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

By Fred Schuetze

SEARS SWINE TOUR

The first step was taken Monday June 24 in preparation for the Sears Swine Tour to be held July 2. The pigs were weighed by Fred Schuetze, Assistant County Agent and J. D. Moore, County Agent.

These weights will be used to give each 4-H'er an idea of how his pig is doing and what he has to do to get his pig ready for the County show August 31. Only the top pig from the county will be eligible for the Area show to be held in Waco Sept. 7. During the tour helpful recommendations will be provided to each 4-H'er on how to better fit his gilt for show.

RECORDBOOK WORKSHOPS

Recordbook workshops were held in Rockdale June 26 and in Cameron June 27. The Rockdale workshop was attended by nine 4-H Club members and three adult leaders.

Members attending were Kathy and Gene Garza, Joe and Josephine Garza, Leroy and Peggy Stephens, Viola Lamere, Martin Mueck and Melvin Hollas acted as junior leaders in helping with the work on the record books. Several adult leaders from the Rockdale 4-H Club attended.

The workshop in Cameron was a big success with 17 4-H Club members attending, seven adult leaders and one junior leader.

Attending were: Sherry and Denise Zarosky, Gerry Hollas, Daniel and Karen Richardson, Joseph Jistel, Jane Anderle, Joe Vaculin, Bill Vogelsang, Clyde and Wayne Jistel, David and Rosemary Ehler, John Tomascik, Johnny Winkler, Donald Fleming, and Melvin Hollas who acted as junior leader.

Both workshops were attended and supervised by Christine Laws, county home demonstration agent and Fred Schuetze.

Hefley Stedman Motor Co. of Cameron donated a 1968 Ford pickup to the Milam County 4-H Club. This pickup will be used by the assistant county agent to carry out 4-H program of work in the county. Mr. Stedman and the Ford Motor Co. are to be commended for this public service.

ASCS

By Alva E. Sanders

Certification for planted crops of feed grain, cotton, and diverted acreages was completed July 1. With the exception of four, all operators in the county filed the reports of acreages and made certifications to the crops and acreages for the 1968 crop year.

Upon completion of obtaining the certifications, farm acreage checks to maintain program control have been started by the county office personnel.

A minimum of 25 percent of the farms for each program in each community must be checked. Farms are selected for farm acreage checks at random.

Completion of certifications also steps up operations to transmit appropriate information and data to New Orleans Data Processing Center for computing and issuing of checks to producers for participation in the feed grain, wheat, and cotton programs.

It is expected that many of the feed grain, wheat and cotton participants will be receiving the final payment checks for these programs within the month of July.

Home from two weeks at the Girl Scout Camp Texlake near Austin are Patricia Trubee, Susan Chandler, Mary and Phyllis Hanel, Carolyn Ellis and Cynthia Mitchan.

County Agent's Notes...

Maize Virus Is Field Day Topic

By J. D. Moore

A number of Milam Countians attended the field day at the Temple Station June 27. "Maize Dwarf Mosaic", a virus disease of maize was the most widely discussed topic because of the disease occurence in the present crop.

Maize dwarf mosaic virus was discovered in Ohio and Arkansas in 1962. By 1965 this disease had been reported in many other states and in 1966 the virus was identified in a corn field in Burleson County.

Maize dwarf mosaic is related to sugar cane mosaic virus and affects corn and Johnson grass.

The virus overwinters in the roots of Johnson grass with the affected grass acting as a host plant for the disease virus. The disease is spread to maize and corn plants by aphids or plant lice. No practical control is available. It is generally agreed, however, that the best method of control will be the development of adapted resistant varieties. It would be desirable to eradicate Johnson grass and other weed hosts in the vicinity of fields of sorghum or corn.

SYMPTOMS

The best diagnostic symptoms in corn occur 4 to 5 weeks after planting. It appears as a faint mottling of the upper leaves. The mottling occurs as an interveined mosaic of light and dark green patches.

In grain sorghum the disease becomes clearly visible as light streaks occur in the leaves. Some think there is a nitrogen deficiency in the plant. Reddish purple streaks and blotches can be observed on diseased plants as the plant starts heading in the case of maize and about at the tasseling stage of corn.

AFFECT ON YIELD

Since the disease is relatively new, a lot of widespread information is not available. However, work done at College Station shows that Dwarf Mosaic cut yields there as much as 47 percent.

Encouraging information to local producers is that after 9 to 10 weeks growth, the plant shows little yield affect from the disease if not affected before this stage of growth.

SUNFLOWERS AS A NEW CROP

Sunflower varieties and fertilizer test were discussed on the tour. Expected yields of 1500 to 2500 pounds per acre with a selling price of 3½ to 4 cents per pound offers possibilities as a new crop for Central Texas.

One handicap is the sizeable problem of controlling the head moth. This insect damages the seed head and is difficult to control.

FLAX PRODUCTION

Flax is tested at the Temple Station. The seed from flax is a fall sown crop and yields about 25 to 30 bushels per acre. The support price is about $2.90 per bushel.

Residue management is one of the problems for producers since the very tough stalk is difficult to get rid of. In fact the fibers are so strong the Egyptians used the fibers from flax plant to make silk threads. Flax is planted as a cash crop in some south Texas counties.

DWI Draws 2-Year Probated Sentence

Tommie John Olexey of Bryan received a two-year probated sentence in Milam County District Court on a conviction of driving while intoxicated (subsequent offense).

Olexey, 35, was charged with DWI on January 26 and indicted by the Grand Jury in March.

INDEPENDENCE

... that good old American brand. A "way-of-life" that was signed into being, July 4th, nearly two hundred years ago. Ah, for that memorable day, when in the course of human events ... Liberty Was Born. Then let us, on this Independence Day, rededicate ourselves to this "hope-of-the-world-way" ... this way of life that guarantees for all men, Freedom, Equality and Justice. Give us an unyielding faith and supply us with genius that cannot err. Endow us with vital religious convictions to pilot our inherited ship of state. Let us always remember that the source of our freedom is The Book. Then Americans, don't forget to remember that, Music Was Born When Liberty Spoke. It is our Independence Day!!!

• San Gabriel

By Mrs. H. H. Linke

A ten-day Vacation Bible School began Monday morning at the San Gabriel Baptist Church after preparation day on Saturday morning. It will close Friday, July 12. The church pastor, Charles Dean Parmer, is the principal of the school.

Mrs. Bill Clark's grandson, John Clark of Houston, is spending two weeks here with her.

Nelson Linke of Houston spent Friday and Saturday with his mother, Mrs. Emily Linke.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nig Black and family were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kennedy and children of Houston.

The San Gabriel Baptist Church presented Mrs. Simona Alonzo with the Outstanding Christian Service Award during the worship hour Sunday. Mrs. Alonzo came from Rockdale each Sunday for the past four years to teach a Latin American Sunday School Class to her own race in Spanish. She is now a member of the Antioch Baptist Church in Rockdale where she is a teacher.

Attending the quarterly all-day WMU meeting in Milano Thursday were Mrs. James Terry, Mrs. Bill Clark, and Mrs. Hugo Linke. Miss Joyce Gill, Baptist State Sunbeam Director, was the guest speaker. Miss Gill, who visited the Holy Land only three days before war began between Israel and Jordan, also showed many beautiful slides from there.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Wilson were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wilson and grandson Davis of Nederland and Robert Southard and Bobby of Robstown.

Mrs. Fred Wilson is a patient in Richards Hospital in Rockdale where she was admitted Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McMillan spent the weekend in Houston with Mr. and Mrs. David McMillan, John and Cindy, who are leaving this week to make their home in California.

Mr. and Mrs. James Arnold Smith, Paula and Dianna were in Crockett over the weekend for the wedding of the Smiths' son, Jesse Stephens, to Miss Wanda Curry of Kennard.

Eighteen young people and their sponsors went to Johnson City on Sunday after church to visit the historic birthplace of President Johnson. Charles Dean Parmer, pastor of the San Gabriel Baptist Church, accompanied his flock.

Giving Unpopularity Repute? . . .

Those that know unpopularity today know respect tomorrow, if the reasons are good enough.

Vice President Hubert Humphrey touched a new note in political campaigning in his refusal thus far to disassociate himself from the Johnson Admininstration's commitment in Vietnam. This commitment, honestly taken by the President in the view of the obligatory precedent of two previous Presidents (both more popular than he) well cost Lyndon Johnson his second elected term in office.

Vice President Humphrey will be his own man on Vietnam and the rest in his own time, as he tells the press. He may well conclude the policy in Vietnam can't be dropped, since it happened while he was vice president, but must be modified as in reality President Johnson now is trying to do.

A lot of great leaders have spat upon the word "popularity." And with reason.

If publicly elected, a public official is endowed with the support of citizens who themselves cannot handle public problems in person. In this process, they expect their interests to be served. Often, they don't say how. They leave that to the representative, the senator or the president.

When an official, whose view is necessarily better, though his integrity may not be at the center of political vortex and decision, must choose, he may choose what is popular, or better said, acceptable to more than 50 percent of his voters.

Once in a while, a popularly elected spokesman, for a potential myrial of reasons, is counted for an unpopular decision at home, and also in mainstream political thought.

Those interests who finance his candidacy may be the first to criticize. If the issue is broad enough, not only economic, but social and even religious interests may be aroused.

And the man is in trouble at the bottom and at the top. He has only his private conscience and time ahead in which to find justification.

But, he may not be around. He may be defeated in the next election. Or he may be shot, like the Kennedys or Martin Luther King. He may retire, as will President Johnson. Or he may take an unpopular stand into a presidential campaign, as Vice President Humphrey implies he may do.

He is said to have the Democratic nomination without serious question. GOP says the same of Richard Nixon whose Vietnam stand is firm. Both expect some contention by George Wallace, former Alabama governor now playing the Dixiecrat role 20 years after the Truman-Dewey race of 1948. But the Dixiecrats, whose creation was inspired by a fiery Humphrey speech in the 1948 Democratic Convention, carried but a few Southern states. It is likely the popular vote will be greater for Wallace, but the net electoral influence about the same.

No question but that these men are influencing Humphrey's timing, though not his integrity. Humphrey is capable of independence as well as loyalty.

He may opt to bring unpopularity into repute by bringing it into a presidential election. That would be a twist and a test of a candidate's greatness.

We need the latter.

SCREWWORM CASES

Weather conditions continue to be almost ideal for the spread of screwworms and case numbers are climbing. Officials at the Mission Lab are emphasizing the need for producers to check their livestock very closely and to submit worm samples whenever worms are found.

DPS Estimates 38 Will Die In Traffic This Weekend

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

"Heads up" driving can save many lives in Texas during this long July 4 holiday weekend, Texas Department of Public Safety advises.

DPS hopes to help bring about a reduction in the estimated toll of 38 expected to die in traffic tragedies during the four-day, 102-hour period.

"Operation Motorcide", designed to place special emphasis on dangers of holiday travel, began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and will continue through 11:59 p.m. Sunday.

DPS will tabulate traffic fatalities during this period and release totals three times daily to news media in order to keep dangers prominently in minds of drivers.

"It is a known fact that the unusually crowded conditions of the highways on Independence Day holidays makes driving more hazardous than usual," acting DPS Director Wilson E. (Pat) Speir reminded.

On the average, said Speir, one person will be killed in traffic every two and a half hours on Texas highways, streets and roads.

As part of its overall effort to lower the anticipated toll, DPS is utilizing additional personnel from other uniformed services to augment the regular Highway Patrol force during the entire weekend.

But drivers themselves must make the most important effort, cautioned Speir. Despite mechanical defects, inadequate highways and other accident - causing factors, the vast majority of all wrecks and fatalities are traced directly to misbehavior, misjudgment, recklessness, negligence and drinking while driving.

LCB RAPPED

Former Liquor Control Board Administrator Coke Stevenson Jr. took the brunt of the blow from the report on the investigation of the LCB by Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin and the Department of Public Safety.

Attorney general found that Stevenson had not been watching the shop, had accepted expensive gifts from persons in the liquor and beer industries and had failed to see that the liquor laws were uniformly enforced.

Report refused to condemn the practice of legislators practicing law before the LCB and failed to condemn the three-man liquor board for not staying atop the shoddy operations of the agency.

Investigators said that most of the difficulties of the Stevenson administration now have been overcome under Acting Administrator O. N. Humphreys Jr.

LEGISLATURE WINDING UP

Bitter debate in the Senate slowed the pace of special session. Senate finally passed a sales - franchise tax increase and sent the revenue bill back to the House, which in turn sent it to conference committee to write a final version.

While Senate mulled taxes and mini-bottled liquor by the drink bill, House passed bills to extend drinking curfew in large cities to 2 a.m. (local-optional in smaller towns); authorize semi-mandatory breath tests for drunk drivers; and triple out-of-state tuitions (to about $600 a semester) at state-supported colleges and universities. Resident student tuitions remain the same.

ATTY. GENERAL RULES

Pinball or marble machines which show number of free games won are illegal, Attorney General Martin has ruled.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

—Cities under civil service police systems have no authority to create a police reserve of amateur friends of the force, but special officers can be summoned in time of emergency.

—A commissioners court does not have to advertise for electronic services to prepare tax rolls when the annual charge is less than $2,500 paid out of current funds.

—A person cannot serve as director of Texas Turnpike Authority and political party precinct chairman (acceptance of Turnpike post would automatically vacate precinct chairmanship).

—A motor carrier may not transport gravel from gravel pits to processing plants under specialized motor carrier permit.

—Company which delivers metal belonging to its customers for galvanization without additional charge is not transporting property for compensation or hire in violation of law.

COURTS SPEAK

City of Midland cannot collect from the surety company of its contractor for defects in a swimming pool, but it may sue the contractor directly, Supreme Court held.

High court held four Houston attorneys and a society of lawyers can seek a court order against a Houston organization which aims to provide legal services to poor. Lawyers said they objected to Houston Legal Foundation's attorney referrals, advertising and interviewing of prisoners in jail.

Attorneys for an Austin bootblack will ask U.S. Supreme Court to review its ruling that a man can be jailed for repeated drunkenness. They argue alcoholism is a disease demanding treatment.

TORNADO DEFENSE

US Weather Bureau and Texas Department of Public Safety have initiated a program for improved public preparedness against tornadoes.

Program involves a "distant early-warning system" by the bureau, then communication of the alert by the DPS and action by trained local officials to prepare the endangered communities.

"Meetings with city and community officials, state and local law officers, disaster agencies and others will be held throughout the state in the future to work out the details necessary for the best possible protection of life and property," a DPS spokesman promised.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Several times lately I've read in copies of newspapers that have turned up out here on this Johnson grass farm that this or that candidate is seeking to find out what the grassroots opinion is on a given matter.

"A man has got to stay close to the people, to get down to the grassroots," a candidate will say as he boards a plane for another part of the country, but invariably he's standing on concrete and is in the air before the plane reaches the end of the paved runway, where the grass begins.

It is just as well. You might say I live pretty close to the grassroots, in fact so close I could reach them with a hoe if I was a mind to, but any candidate who is planning on coming out here to get my opinion might as well stay at home.

I can list the problems all right:
Viet Nam.
Crime.
Riots.
College students.
Gun laws.
Taxes and debt.
Inflation.
Traffic
Pollution.

But when it comes to supplying the answers, I can tell the candidates they could as well stay at home and beat their head against concrete as coming out here and beating it against the ground.

While it's preposterous for a politician to try to keep his ear to the ground when he's living in a high-rise apartment building -- nobody can lean out of a window that far -- still, even if he could, or if he couldn't and toppled, he wouldn't hear much.

Out here, we've got far more problems than answers. I had always thought it was Washington's role to have far more answers than problems. Times are mixed up.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Post Office Has New Deadline For OutgoingMail

The Post Office Department has announced that effective July 1, the last dispatch of mail from the Cameron Post Office will be at 6:55 p.m. each day. Any mail deposited in the Post Office by 6:50 p.m. will be dispatched that day.

This change of schedule has been made due to the connection of air-taxi service at the Temple Airport. This air-service connection will accommodate all 1st Class mail and will assure next day delivery to all towns in Texas, and possibly to surrounding states.

"We will continue to have a dispatch to Temple at 5:20; which is a very good dispatch for outgoing letters," said Postmaster N. L. Caperton, "but it is necessary to mail early enough to be assured your letters will be dispatched."

Real Estate Property Titles

By Edwin A. Bigbee

(This column is one of three contributed by Mr. Bigbee, one of several licensed real estate agents here, for better understanding of property definitions. In any transaction, consult an attorney, of course. —Ed.)

TITLE DEFINED: According to decisions of the courts, Title is ownership. All owners of property hope and desire that their possession of land shall be tranquil and undisturbed. Too many have had to learn perhaps through bitter experience, that all titles are not what they may appear to be from the recorded instruments.

It is required that all grants and sales of land with the names of the Grantors and Grantees, the estate and the date be recorded. Thus the transcript of the instrument becomes a matter of public property and public notice. The tremendous increase in the number of recordings, has caused huge increases in the costs to determine titles from a search of grantor-grantee indexes in public offices.

SOURCE OF TITLES: An Abstract of title should begin with some undisputed source of title. This is ordinarily the Patent or Grant from the state or even some earlier basis of title. There are many things beyond and behind the record which may adversely affect the title; which may destroy the title in whole or in part. Title may be perfect in so far as the "record" is concerned, yet fail by reason of hazards which are termed unknown dangers.

Among these unknown hazards and perils are the following: Frauds in general; forged deeds; false affidavits; undiscovered heirs deed given by minors; illegal and wrongful sale of the whole property by one in possession as a joint tenant or tenant in common, while there are others (undiscovered heirs & etc.) owning undivided interests.

POINTS IN REAL ESTATE TRANSFER: Record the deed promptly (the first deed filed takes prior right over all others); a warranty deed does not correct a bad title; it does not cure defects or mistakes in former deeds; possession from five to twenty years does not in itself make a title good; there are many circumstances in which adverse possession does not operate; description of irregularly described tracts should refer to some recorded corner for a beginning point; names of grantors and grantees should always be written in full and legibly; don't rely on tax deeds or tax receipts for correct descriptions.

No prudent buyer should ever purchase a property with a questionable defect to the title, unless it is corrected before the actual acquisition. This would amount to deliberately buying a possible and highly probable law suit.

By all means secure an up-to-date abstract; consider having a new survey made ... consult your attorney, get his opinion on the title. Ask a reliable real estate broker to handle the details, when selling or buying.

INADEQUATE WORING

Inadequate wiring on many farms causes voltage drops of 10 percent or more. Such drops, explains W. S. Allen, Extension agricultural engineer, means a decrease in light output from lamps of 30 percent; a decrease in the power of a motor of about 20 percent and similar drops for other electrical equipment.

SALINITY WORKSHOP

A major purpose of the July 16-18 workshop at Texas A&M University is to discuss and set guidelines for recommendations for soil and water salinity standards. About 50 leaders in soil and water conservation from California, Colorado, New Mexico and Texas are expected to attend.

Fade-a-way used faithfully combats spots, discolored and darkened skin. Blemishes and coarse pores can become a thing of the past with regular use of this marvelous cream. Regain that fresh, youthful appearance. Greaseless with a delightful scent.
